

Teacher Reflection Questions for Small Group Lessons

Ask these questions following small group lessons

	Yes	No	Sometimes
Did I give clear expectations/directions and ask students to repeat directions to check for understanding?
Did I tell students what to do instead of what not to do?
Did I have all materials ready prior to an activity to reduce wait time?
Did I have a variety of materials?
Did I differentiate materials to engage all students?
Did I have enough materials?
Did I give students “thinking time?”
Did I plan time for students to collaborate?
Did I give specific praise to each student in small group?
Did I model the activity and give individual support when needed?
Was the time allotted appropriate?
Were students actively engaged?

How would I change the lesson? (what worked well and what did not)?
What changes do I need to make in materials?
How can I individualize instruction for specific students?
How did students demonstrate mastery?
How can I honor student work? (display work, add to portfolio, share with families, etc.)
